

An enchanting first EP for the emerging vocalist, Victoria Malenfant.

Montreal - January 8th 2024

With a rich voice that will take you from France to Brazil, Victoria Malenfant shows her diverse jazz repertoire in english, french and portugese in her new EP : 'Live Session at Sud-Ouest Studio'

Recorded live in Montreal and released independantly on January 8th 2024 on all platforms, the four song EP will make you travel between jazz, classic french songs and brazilian music with arrangements written by the singer.

The first song, Social Call by Gigi Gryce, is a jazz standard revisited here by mixing the original version with the one by Benny Bennack and Veronica Mars. The second song, La Javanaise, is an original arrangement of Gainsbourg's composition and brings a new atmosphere to this classic french piece. The third song, Samba de Verao, will offer you two versions (and two stories) in one, since this arrangement contains the original portugese lyrics, and the english ones. The fourth song, Danse à trois, is a composition by Victoria Malenfant, taking its energy from tango music and talking about the doubts that haunt us when we stay too much in the past.

In only four songs, the singer presents us different styles, arranged simply and efficiently to share the best of the pieces and their stories. With a just and balanced interpretation, Victoria Malenfant introduces us to her musical world that is mostly jazz, with a touch of other influences.
